It is therefore the duty of the pharmacist and the dispensing practitioner of medicine, as also, to a considerable extent, of the druggist and the manufacturing chemist, to examine the medicinal chemicals of commerce as to their identity, quality, and purity. In the exercise of this duty, they have frequent occasion to resort for information to references now widely scattered through chemical, pharmaceutical, and medical manuals and journals; since our literature, although of vast and increasing extent, and crystallizing more and more into distinct branches, is still wanting...
